Livi's Motivations

Livi Michael is a woman of ambition, driven by a desire for success and a burning need to prove herself in the male-dominated world of business. Her upbringing as the daughter of a real estate mogul instilled in her a fierce competitive spirit and a strong work ethic.

However, Livi's motivations extend beyond financial gain. She seeks power, recognition, and a sense of control over her life and the lives of those around her. Her marriage to Logan Roy, the ruthless patriarch of the family, is a union of convenience that provides Livi with the status and resources she craves. However, their relationship is devoid of affection or genuine connection, leaving Livi feeling isolated and unfulfilled.

Livi's relationship with Kendall Roy, Logan's ambitious son, is equally complicated. Livi's manipulative nature also affects other characters in the show. She manipulates Tom Wambsgans, Greg Hirsch, and even Logan himself to further her own agenda. Livi's actions create chaos and instability, constantly shifting the balance of power within the family.

Sarah Snook's Performance

Sarah Snook's portrayal of Livi Michael is a masterpiece of acting. Snook captures the character's complexity, vulnerability, and ruthless ambition with equal measure. Her performance seamlessly blends moments of warmth and manipulation, making Livi a character both sympathetic and terrifying.
